European Short Course Swimming Championships

December 5 – 10, 2023

Otopeni – Bucharest, Romania

European Aquatics President's Welcome Message

On behalf of European Aquatics it gives me great pleasure to write this message for the first Bulletin of the 2023

European Short Course Swimming Championships.

Inside these pages you will find useful and practical information about all aspects of organisation connected to this event, which is the most important in the 2023 European Calendar for Swimming.

Short course competition, with fast turns and exciting ambience, is popular amongst athletes and fans, and I am confident that we will have an excellent support from our member federations. With less than a year to go before the Paris Olympics, this high level competition provides an excellent opportunity for all swimmers to judge their form in winter, as well as to ensure that swimming remains in the public eye, outside of the traditional summer season.

The event will take place over 6 competition days, from 5-10 December, at the Aquatics Complex of Otopeni, just outside the Romanian capital Bucharest.

The Romanian Aquatics and Modern Pentathlon Federation, the National Agency of Sports and the City Council of Otopeni Town have worked hard to provide the best facilities and environment for delegations, closely supported by the European Aquatics Office and Technical Swimming Committee. I would like to take this opportunity to thank the President of the Federation Camelia Potec as well as the local organising committee team and their counterparts at European Aquatics. By working together we can achieve great results.

I look forward to seeing you all in Otopeni!

Warm regards,

Antonio Silva

President European Aquatics

BUCHAREST

Bucharest is a charming city with magnificent buildings, wide boulevards and lots of stories waiting to be discovered by the people who want to know just a little more about Romania's largest city and capital.

If you want to find out more about the city, here are some interesting facts about Bucharest that you may not have heard of.

The Palace of the Parliament

There's a good reason why everyone wants to see this building when traveling to Bucharest! Also named the House of the People, The Palace of the Parliament is the heaviest building in the world and the second largest and most expensive administrative building, right after the Pentagon. The Palace was ordered by Nicolae Ceauşescu, the dictator of Communist Romania, and it houses the Parliament of Romania along with three museums and an international conference center. If you want to find out how much it weights and other interesting facts about it, we suggest visiting this place.

Little Paris

Bucharest earned the nickname "Little Paris" in the period between the two World Wars because of the beautiful architecture built at that time. Little Paris also has its own Arc de Triomphe built after Romania gained its independence in 1878 so that the victorious troops could march under it. Inspired by the famous Arc de Triomphe in Paris, this Arc is a little smaller than the one in Paris but still impressive and worth the visit. The Unirii Boulevard was also ordered to be like the Champs-Elysées, only bigger.

The Romanian Athenaeum is a concert hall in the center of Bucharest, Romania and a landmark of the Romanian capital city.

Opened in 1888, the ornate, domed, circular building is the city's main concert hall and home of the "George Enescu" Philharmonic and of the George Enescu annual international music festival.

LOCATION

Otopeni is a town in Ilfov County, Muntenia, Romania, 10 km north of Bucharest along the DN1 road to Ploiești.

Henri Coandă International Airport is located inside Otopeni.

HISTORY

The oldest discovered human settlements in the region are very old. On the occasion of excavations in 1966 to expand the nearby Henri Coanda International Airport, archaeologist Margaret Constantiniu of the History Museum of Bucharest identified fragments of ancient pottery and other objects that belonged to an important human settlement existing since the first period of the Iron Age. In an overlay was discovered another settlement are dated to the 10th century.

By charter of 14 February 1587, Mihnea Turcitu - voivode of Romanian - gave Holy Trinity Monastery half to the village of Islazul and half to the village of Hodopeni (today Otopeni) mills and gypsies.

On 20 May 1620, Maria, great Baneasa, Holy Trinity monastery was given back (later Radu Voda) half the village Hodopeni with Rumani, given by Master Villa, commanding Ruman listen. Historian Giurăscu Constantin believes that Hodopeni name of the village, comes from an Hodopa or Hodoba.

At the end of the 19th century, Otopeni town was part of Dâmbovița County, Ilfov Province, consisting of two villages, Otopeni Lower and Otopeni Upper, with 851 inhabitants in total. The commune operated a school with 29 students and two churches (one in each village). The village chambers were then part of town Bucoveni, with 125 inhabitants.

Otopeni was transformed into a city as part of Nicolae Ceauşescu's Systematization plan. It replaced the semidetached houses with four-story high apartment buildings.
